The History of the Pacific Street Café

Pacific Street Café was born into the historic district of Roseville in 1990. It is a quaint little café that has served generations of families who have come to enjoy the great food and great service that this café provides.

For the last 30 years we have provided a cozy atmosphere and enjoyable food, delivered with a warm smile.

Just outside the door there is a new viewing platform where you can watch the trains from the Union Pacific Railroad pass by. Guests get excited when they hear the rumble of the engine going by and see the children's eyes light up when they get to see the train so close up. It was this excitement that lent to the idea of putting a train inside the restaurant. In the past few years the café has built its own railway with a train that travels around the café visiting everyone as they enjoy their visit with us. Many of our guests like that a lot of our food is prepared the old fashioned way, like biscuits from scratch, as well as items like chicken fried steak and meatloaf. It truly is a place where everyone knows your name. In this time where corporations are continually moving into our area, it is nice to have a family owned café that offers greetings with a smile, thanks you when you leave and appreciates you. This warm and cozy café offers the feeling of home that is so hard to find in our fast paced world filled with fast food substitutes on every corner. We offer a place where you feel like family the moment you arrive and leave with a smile that makes you look forward to returning.

We look forward to seeing you and welcoming you into our home at the Pacific Street Café.
